When the Jordan dyster bill comes up for final action in the House to-day. Mr. Newhouse, of Culpeper, will ofter an amendement providing that the matter of rening out the barren area in the Baylor survey be left to the State Board of Fisheries, instead of appointing a log-islative commission to do this work.

"It is unfair to strip these officers of their, power," said Colonel Newhouse, in discussing the matter, last right, "and besides, to leave the matter to them, in whose hands it properly belongs, will be to save a large amount of money to the State, I shall not only ofter the amendment, but shall do all; in my power to have it adopted."

Mr. Sands closed for the defendant and Mr. Pollard for the plaintiff and at 12:30 the case went to the fury. At 1:41 the jury filed in and announced a verdict for the plaintiff for the amount stated.

It was claimed by the pidnitiff that the defendant had a contract to furnish them several thousand tons of coal on which they could have made a profit of $2 petton. Owing to the fallure of the common to curve out that contract the firmlest the profit.

The court then took up the case of John Henry Robinson, a nerro boy, harged with rifling letters. The '-y cuturned a verdict of guilty and a flue of $20 was imposed.

Court then adjourned until 10 A. M. In-day. At that time the case of United Cities vs. U. T. Jones, a suit to recover a sum alleged to be due by Jones as suretom a band.

DERELICT LIGHTER IN GRAVEYARD REACH

The derelict lighter in the river sooms to have seen its best days also as a monace to navigation. When last seen the waterlogged and antiquated scow was our Lox's anding, which is ominously near G aveyard reach. The Old Dominion and Virginia Navigation Companies yesterday afternoon chartered a tag and sent her down to pull the lighter out of the ohannel.

The tag will hook on to it, and, pulling it as close to the shore as possible, anchor it. The tag was pobably at work all of last night, but doubtless got the scow out of the channel before the Old Dominion steamer, which left here at 7 in the evening, reached that point.
